VOL. XII.

RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1881.

NO. 12.

Why Is It?

Why is it that a drunken man has such a fancy for railroad tracks? He will go miles out of his way to get to one; and rarely misses the object of his search, even on the darkest night. When found he is invariably seized with an uncontrollable desire to take a nap there. There must be something peculiarly soothing in the contact of the cold iron rail as he fits the back of his neck to it and adjusts his body between the ties in preparation for slumber. And frequently it is the last long sleep he takes. But what draws him there? Sober men wander about for hours sometimes, hunting the depot in daylight, but the inebriate can strike a railroad track in two minutes when it is as dark as topet. And he generally gets there ahead of the train too, though the train retaliates by getting ahead of him before the deal is over.

Handkerchief Language.

Handkerchiefs now must have a language of their own, which he who buys them may read. The name, initials or monogram, formerly embroidered on handkerchiefs, have been discarded, and instead is adopted a flower or motto. Thus each selects her own flower and then embroiders below it its flower language. The beautiful brunette chooses for her very own the rose with the device, "I am all heat"; another with the inscription, "My thoughts are only of you." One with a poppy has "Beauty dwells in the heart and not in the face"; above a sprig of mimosa is the modest remark, "My thoughts surpass my charms"; "I cling or I die" surmounts an ivy leaf; "Purity and nobility" is written over a lily, while some sentimental damsel inscribes over a primrose, "I am misunderstood."

Seck Back 43 Years.

"I was troubled for years with kidney complaint, gravel, etc. my blood became too thin; I was dull and inactive, could hardly crawl about; was an old, worn-out man all over, could get nothing to help me until I met Mr. Bittner, who now has a boy of 18. My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, though I am 72, and have no doubt it will do well for others of my age. It is worth a trial." — Father.

ANOTHER SILENT MAN.

It is a matter of general comment in Washington that President Arthur keeps his contemplated Cabinet changes with greater privacy than any President who has preceded him. Ex-President Grant had a reputation of keeping a close mouth; but even he took certain Senators into his confidence. But even President Arthur's closest friends, nor those who are most interested, even Cabinet officers, who desire to be relieved, appear to have no knowledge of his plans. Secretary Windom says he has no knowledge who his successor will be, and Attorney-General MacVeagh is credited with being anxious to get out of the Cabinet as soon as possible, and is reported as saying that he does not know when his resignation will be accepted. Senator Cameron was asked recently in reference to Cabinet changes, but professed utter ignorance on the subject. Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, said he knew nothing whatever of the President's plans. The same statement is made by those who are received at the President's residence. Absolutely nothing has leaked out as to the President's intentions, although the impression prevails that some Cabinet nominations will be sent to the Senate at an early day.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR.

This is the first time in the history of the country when the President and Vice-President were members of different political parties. This time it did not occur in the natural order of political affairs, but is one of the results of the assassin Guiteau's bullet, which caused the death of President Garfield and placed another in the position to which he was elected. Except as presiding officer of the Senate, the Vice-President is a mere figure-head, having no duties assigned him, so that it really makes no difference to the public whether he is a Democrat or a Republican, except in the event of the death or disability of the President, when, as in the case of Arthur, he would become Chief Executive of the Republic. Those who talk about the possibilities of Senator Bayard of Delaware becoming President, must remember that the law provides for a new election in case both the President and Vice-President vacate the office. The death or disability of President Arthur would devolve the duties of President upon the President of the Senate only for the period the law allows for preparation for a new election.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Ogden Pilot brings forward the name of Hon. C. C. Goodwin, the present editor of the Salt Lake Tribune, for a Cabinet position. The Pilot says: His qualifications for any position in the Government are universally recognized by all who enjoy the pleasure of his acquaintance, and his fitness for a position in President Arthur's Cabinet will be at once conceded, and for this gentleman makes the claim that he is a thorough representative of the manhood, the intellect, the statesmanship and the patriotism, not only of the empire of the West, but of the whole American Nation.

There is danger of a water famine in New York. Water is being carried to the homes of many residents of that city, and is sold at from 20 cents to 50 cents a barrel for household use. There has been no general disturbance made about it, for the simple reason that it is one of those things that nobody can help. There is considerable suffering among the poorer classes of people who occupy small houses in remote places. Unless copious rains fall in Westchester and Putnam counties between now and November 1st the city will be entirely destitute of Croton water.

The N. Y. Tribune says that if it is true, as Judge Davis will not deny, that the present situation places the peace of the country in peril by inviting any reckless and desperate man to change the administration through the use of the pistol, it is the duty of the Senate to end that state of things.

The venerable Hannibal Hamlin has determined to close his long career as an office holder by performing the duties of American Minister to Spain. Over 40 years of public life have given Mr. Hamlin a knowledge of the world and men which ought to fit him for such a diplomatic career as the Madrid Mission offers.

Our report of the examination in Justice Young's Court of the parties engaged in the shooting affray last month is necessarily lengthy. It is one of the most interesting trials ever held on this coast, and deserves a full report. In plain English, somebody has been trying to steal a railroad, and there has been a murder committed in the attempt. Until we can decide beyond question who are to blame we refrain from editorial comment further than to say, "Let no guilty man escape."

It seems unfair for California horsemen to ask our Society to hang up $8,000 or $10,000 for California horses to contend for. The officers of our Society have complied with every request that the Californians have made, after being assured that they would come up with stock enough to fill every race. How well the promise has been kept the entry clerk's book will show. They evidently get together and make up a pool and come with just stock enough to take the purse. We intend to have more to say on this subject next week, and will endeavor to get at the truth of the matter, so that the officers of the Society will know next year how to act.

On Wednesday next, 19th instant, the centennial of the surrender of Cornwallis to Washington at Yorktown, Virginia, will be appropriately celebrated. This event in American history was the culmination of the War of the Revolution. That war began at Lexington, Massachusetts, on April 19, 1775, and ended at Yorktown on October 19, 1781, a period of exactly six years and a half.

Electricity as a motive power for railways comes to the front again. At Port Rush, Ireland, ground was broken for a railway to the Devil's Causeway. Although only a few miles in length, this road will be the pioneer of its kind in the United Kingdom. Dr. Siemens, whose electric railway near Berlin seems to be an established success, is reported a large contributor to the funds of the new enterprise.

On some of the Southern railroads negroes are still excluded from parlor cars. A fashionably-dressed mulatto woman and her child insisted on occupying seats for which she had bought tickets at Nashville, upon which the Superintendent hatched on an extra car, and transferred to it those passengers who disliked to ride in the other.

A hopeful sign of the times in the South is the rapid increase in the number of landed proprietors within the past few years. In Georgia there were before the war 62,000 landed proprietors. Now there are more than twice that number. In many other States, notably those best adapted to agriculture, nearly the same ratio of increase is observed.

Fire plugs are very essential things and it is a pity there is only one in Reno. The plug at the corner of the GAZETTE office was the first to get water on the fire yesterday, and also on the fire at the GAZETTE office the other day. They do not cost much and every block in town ought to have two or three.

General Hancock has chartered one of the finest steamers on Long Island Sound, on which to proceed to the Yorktown Centennial and entertain the most prominent guests. It is thought that his reception by the people during the Garfield obsequies raised new hopes in regard to the Presidency.

The GAZETTE had a nice map of Reno and the outlying country. The Journal had none. The energetic young man that edits the "enlarged" morning paper could not get along without it. Well, our idea was a good one. Take it along, Senator, we won't find any fault.

A New Mexico correspondent says: "I want to be an Indian of tall, commanding form, with a lousy U. S. blanket to protect me from the storm; I want to be an Indian, an Apache or a Ute, for I'm tired of being a white man—an unprotected brute."

General John T. Fremont has signed as Governor of Arizona. We hope to see a man appointed that will place that sparsely Territory in its proper place. General Fremont has been a failure.

Pleasant Moore, local reporter for the Gold Hill News, was badly beaten by Chief of Police Bradley in Virginia yesterday. Good work for a Chief of Police to be engaged in.

H. H. Warner & Co. send a very handsome picture of Garfield and his Cabinet in colors. It is worth preserving.

Information Wanted.

Lloyd Hill, ex-sheriff of Ormsby, was in town the other day. He left here Wednesday bound for Idaho, since which time nothing has been heard of him. He is traveling for Sprague, Stanley & Co., wholesale liquor merchants, San Francisco, and, being in their employ, they, as is quite natural, feel a deep interest in his movements. Hill had a bottle of "nigger bitters" in each pocket, and the firm want the bitters. Any policeman making the arrest will be well rewarded. Hill has the reputation of being a "bad man." Don't forget the "nigger bitters."

Our report of the examination in Justice Young's Court of the parties engaged in the shooting affray last month is necessarily lengthy. It is one of the most interesting trials ever held on this coast, and deserves a full report. In plain English, somebody

Extensive Fire in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 13. About 3:40 this afternoon a fire broke out in Upstone's blacksmith shop on Spear, between Mission and Howard streets, and almost immediately communicated to the California Planing Mill, at the corner of Howard. This building, covering a fifty-acre lot, and filled with the most combustible material, was in a few moments a mass of fire, a heavy gale blowing from the northwest, and the flames soon leaped across Spear street and attacked Wigmore's lumber yard, spreading to a saloon on the corner, and thence down Howard street nearly to Stewart, consuming a number of small establishments, including Green's rigging loft, Chase & Wright's ship carpenter shop, and Richard's coal yard.

On Wednesday next, 19th instant, the centennial of the surrender of Cornwallis to Washington at Yorktown, Virginia, will be appropriately celebrated. This event in American history was the culmination of the War of the Revolution. That war began at Lexington, Massachusetts, on April 19, 1775, and ended at Yorktown on October 19, 1781, a period of exactly six years and a half.

Electricity as a motive power for railways comes to the front again. At Port Rush, Ireland, ground was broken for a railway to the Devil's Causeway.

Although only a few miles in length, this road will be the pioneer of its kind in the United Kingdom. Dr. Siemens, whose electric railway near Berlin seems to be an established success, is reported a large contributor to the funds of the new enterprise.

Further from the San Francisco Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 14.

The Spear street fire is still burning, but the flames are confined to the limits previously given. It is now stated that the loss on the California mill will reach at least $100,000.

After the fire was partly subdued, two bodies, charred beyond recognition, were found in the rear of the building in which the fire started. It is more than probable that they were workmen in the California mill.

About ninety men were employed there, and so rapid was the spread of the flames that many escaped with difficulty.

The canning establishment of Code & Eifel, fronting on Main, was somewhat damaged in the rear, and it is probable that full information will bring the loss up to near $250,000, with light insurance.

J. D. Connolly, Sandlot Justice of the Peace, was held to answer to day on three charges of assault to murder.

The Arizona War.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 14.

A special to the Citizen says: From the San Carlos agency count to day there was 3,010, or five more than last week, showing that there have been no deserts for the war-path.

The telegraph operator of Lordburg, N. M., says a man named Batchelder, from Gilia, just in, reports a fight with the Indians in Stein's Peak range, about 12 miles north of the railroad.

One man killed and four missing.

They were looking for stolen stock when fired upon and that Batchelder came into Shakespeare for assistance.

General Hancock.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 14.

Judge Finn of the Superior Court to-day sustained the demurral of Mrs. Hopkins, successor of Mrs. Mark Hopkins, as administrator of the estate of her deceased husband in opposition to W. S. Hopkins. The Court suggested that the parties agree on some one to act as administrator who is not related to deceased.

Mark Hopkins Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 14.

Judge Finn of the Superior Court to-day sustained the demurral of Mrs. Hopkins, successor of Mrs. Mark Hopkins, as administrator of the estate of her deceased husband in opposition to W. S. Hopkins. The Court suggested that the parties agree on some one to act as administrator who is not related to deceased.

General Fremont Resigns.

TUCSON, October 14.

A Star special from El Paso, Texas, to the effect that General Carlos Fruto with one thousand troops has left Chihuahua for the border to co-operate with the American troops against the Apaches. General John C. Fremont has resigned as Governor of Arizona; it is thought General N. P. Banks will be his successor.

General Fremont Resigns.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 14.

The remains found in rear of the California mill after yesterday's fire, are believed to be those of Nelson George and Edward Hodgkins, both of whom have been missing since the fire. They were mechanics employed in the mill. Mathew Quirk is also missing, but no other bodies have been found.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 14.

The two suits for fifty thousand dollars each of the city against the bondsmen of Alexander Austin, late tax collector, were dismissed in the Superior Court yesterday.

Glad He Got Out.

M. T. Coats asks the space to thank those who worked so manfully to save his hotel from fire yesterday. It was almost miraculous that it did not burn, as the big pitch pine barn burning across the alley must have heated it up intensely. He thanks the Gold Hill firemen, the Virginia firemen, the Carson and Reno firemen, individually and collectively, and dont want anybody forgotten. He is exceedingly glad to escape, and save his property and household goods from destruction.

The Best Race of the Week.

The first race to-day was for the EVENING GAZETTE stake. Single dash of one mile and a half. Baldwin's Clark D. and Whisker Fred Collier came to the post for the word. The mare was a great favorite in the betting, twenty to five being offered freely in her favor. The two ran neck and neck throughout the distance. The first was run in the time of 49 1/4. The three-quarters was covered in 1:16, 1/4 mile in 1:43 1/4, and a half in 2:40 1/4. Fred Collier won by half a length. The time, considering the track and high altitude, was certainly remarkable.

The second race was a dash of one-half mile, for which Lulu Riggs, Chandler and Cousin Vic started. Riggs won by five open lengths. Time, 49 1/4.

Personal.

Miss Mary Toombs has returned from Oakland.

Robt. Flourney and family, Genesee Valley, are in town.

Judge Keyser, editor of the Truckee Republican, and Frank Rabel of that town are in town attending the Fair.

James H. Borland and wife are visiting friends here. They leave for their California home to-morrow night.
